

Miss Emery Norweb Is Betrothed

Special to The New York Times

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio, Dec. 15—Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. R. Henry Norweb Jr. of Kirtland and Boothbay Harbor, Me., of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Emery May Norweb, to Jeffrey Robert McManus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. McManus of Washington and Austin, Tex.

A May wedding is planned.

The prospective bride attended the Hathaway Brown School in Shaker Heights and graduated from the Masters School in Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., Pine Manor Junior College and George Washington University. She is with the First National Bank of Atlanta.

Her father is director of the Holden Aboretum in Kirtland, which was founded by her great-grandfather, the late Albert F. Holden. Miss Norweb is a granddaughter of R. Henry Norweb, a retired Foreign Service officer, who was Ambassador to Portugal and Cuba, and Mrs. Norweb of Cleveland, and a great-great-granddaughter of Liberty Holden, founder of The Plain Dealer.

Mr. McManus, who is with the Union Trust Company of the District of Columbia, attended Rutgers University and graduated from the University of St. Thomas in Houston. His father is a retired Foreign Service officer. His grandfather, the late James H. Reilly, was coach of the swimming team at Rutgers.